Content

1. Taking the cluster strategy to the next level. Mapping new opportunities and competencies.

In this on-boarding session, we will address how to elevate cluster strategy to new heights. Through new mapping, participants will recognise emerging opportunities and the competencies required to transform their clusters. We will analyze key competencies that clusters need to cultivate to respond to the evolving demands of the new landscapes.

2. Building sustainable clusters and developing top cluster services.

At this second session we will discover how to build resilient clusters that endure and provide high value to their members. We will focus on financial models supporting cluster sustainability and define the new service portfolio that clusters can offer.

3. Shaping your new cluster strategy. Mentoring session.

A mentoring session to help you shaping your cluster strategy. Our facilitators will provide direct and tailored guidance to address the specific challenges your cluster may be facing. An opportunity to gain strategic insights aligned with your goals and objectives.

Content

4. Opening international opportunities. Think big & global..

Explore how clusters can expand internationally, opening global opportunities for their members. We will delve into international markets and networks, how to establish strong international connections and provide strategies for clusters to capitalize on global opportunities.

5. Cluster policy and practice: Working together for change.

This session will address the pivotal role clusters play in the innovation ecosystem and in shaping policy development. Uncover strategies for influencing positive change in the business landscape and fostering effective collaboration to draft policies that bring benefits to the entire business ecosystem.

6. The collaborative future. Navigating AI integration through innovative cluster strategies.

We will discuss how cluster organizations can incorporate artificial intelligence tools, and tackle the broader impacts of AI on the organization and their collaborations with companies. We will explore innovative strategies for an effective AI integration into cluster strategies.

Check-out mentoring session: Planning for effective change with a cluster impact.

We will end with a final check-out mentoring session to go over the main insights of the program, and how you plan to integrate them on a strategic planning aimed at fostering impactful change in your cluster.

Facilitators

The sessions will be facilitated by experts from TCI Network, alongside others cluster experts, who will curate the topics for each session. They will not only present their own cases but also engage in insightful debates with participants, fostering a dynamic and collaborative learning environment.
